

NEW AGE SECURITY SURVEYORS & CONSULTANCY (NASSC)

Global terrorism and crime, by their very nature, know no boundaries and their targets are so variable that no maritime element is exempt from risk.

Following 9/11, the International Maritime Organization established measures to mitigate the risks and our services not only provides compliance checks but ensures the security methods implemented meet the very high standard required by the IMO and EU port state inspections. This is achieved by a policy of adopting a proactive, preventive security approach.

Because of the devastating effects of such criminality, we can offer a full security consultancy which is not only extremely proactive in combating the problem but is also very cost-effective. The company is not just offering a highly professional commercial service but is also providing a service that can save lives, preserve reputation, prepares you in High end Authority Inspections and prevent financial ruin.

Peace of Mind

There is no ceiling to the value of security or indeed its importance. Investment in security is vital and singularly inexpensive by comparison to the devastation that can be created by those intent on exploiting security weaknesses.

Engaging our services means benefiting from a team of experts who will utilize all their experience and knowledge to enhance security and consequentially the safety of each individual client's operations and staff.

Services we offer

ISPS security plan compliance • Security pre-inspection audits • Exercises and drills • Supply-chain security management • Incident investigation • Specialist security advice • TRANSEC approved PFSSO courses • Port facility personnel security awareness training • Recognition of firearms, weapons and explosives • Bomb threat and search awareness training

Security Audit. Without Compromise.

We can help you identify your vulnerabilities, assess your risk and perform your security audit requirements.

Design and conduct audits, inspections, and assessments to meet and exceed internal and external regulations and standards.

Collect and analyze relevant security data to improve business decision-making.

Manage and relate corrective actions to ensure compliance.

Through our affiliates, in a number of areas worldwide that focus on the issue of the security audit, whether for physical security and protection, IT and infrastructure security, International Shipping and Port Security (ISPS).

We are in a position to attend anywhere in the world providing security surveys and a feature of our response is flexibility to meet company deadlines.

The expertise possessed by our company is ready to be used in the compilation, audit and testing of Port Facility Security Plans (PFSPs). With broad experience we are well placed to be the 'annual independent auditor'.

Not only are the plans tested and audited, if necessary an updated plan will be produced to take account of lessons learned, port expansion or development.

We also provide upon request customized security software, where you can incorporate your own security protocols, or we can assist you with the provision of security audit assessments formatted for immediate use in customized software.

Our customers are leaders in their respective industries and are not willing to compromise when it comes to security. Companies understand what is at stake. They trust our expertise and custom software to deliver a robust, enterprise level audit and inspection management solution that is consistent, reliable and backed by superior customer service on request.